Anti Bullying vision and approach

Beaumont School aims to ensure that all members of the school community feel welcome, safe and happy and so are able to learn and make progress. Bullying of any kind (whether it takes place in school or at home) prevents this from happening. Our vision is:

- To build and maintain an anti-bullying ethos within the school community
- To ensure all staff, students and parents and carers have a clear understanding of what bullying behaviour is both in and out of school bounds and hours
- To ensure all governors and staff know and understand the school policy on bullying and follow it when bullying is suspected or reported
- To ensure that all students, parents and carers know the school policy on bullying and feel confident to activate the anti-bullying systems
- To challenge attitudes about bullying behaviour
- To increase understanding for students who are victims of bullying

The school anti-bullying policy has been developed with due regard for our duties and obligations under existing legislation and public sector duties for the safeguarding and wellbeing of all our students and we will take all steps to ensure their safety. As a school, we take bullying very seriously. Students, parents and carers should understand that reporting bullying is essential and be assured that the school will support them fully whenever bullying is reported. It is the responsibility of members of the school community to implement the Anti-Bullying Procedure. This procedure is an important and integral part of the school's Behaviour, Safeguarding and Equality Scheme policies also.

The key legislation, government policies and guidance which influence anti-bullying policy and practice are listed below.

- Education Act 2002
- The Children Act, 2004
- Education and Inspections Act, 2006
- Equality Act 2006 and Equality Bill 2009
- Statutory duties regarding: disability, ethnicity, gender, religion and belief, sexual orientation and age

ANTI-BULLYING POLICY

What is bullying?

Following recommendations from Hertfordshire County Council, bullying is behaviour that impacts negatively on others in the following ways:

1. The behaviour is either intended to cause distress or results in significant distress.
2. The behaviour is repeated or results in multiple impacts on the target.
3. There is an imbalance of power between the perpetrator/s of bullying and the target/s whether as a result of the prior context or the content or the experience of the hurtful behaviour.

Bullying can take place between students, between students and staff or between staff, and can include:

- name-calling, taunting, mocking and making offensive comments
- offensive graffiti
- excluding people from groups
- gossiping and spreading hurtful or untruthful rumours
- kicking, hitting, pushing
- taking belongings
- cyberbullying – including sending inappropriate, offensive or degrading text messages, emails or instant messages via the internet, setting up websites designed to embarrass or upset individuals or excluding them from social networking sites.

Students are bullied for a variety of reasons including:

- ethnic background, religion or culture
- disability, special educational needs or being particularly able, gifted and talented
- sexual orientation
- gender (including sexualised bullying)
- size, appearance or health conditions
- social or economic status (poverty, class)
- age/maturity
- home circumstances – certain groups such as students in public care, or young carers, or those with same sex parents/carers or whose parents/carers have mental health difficulties may be particularly vulnerable.

As a school, we also challenge the development of an environment which is hurtful and threatening to particular groups or communities. For example, casual use of homophobic, transphobic, bi-phobic, sexist or racist language does not go unchecked whether it is targeted at an individual or not.

Peer on peer abuse

If a student causes harm to another, this should not necessarily be dealt with as abuse. The following guidelines should be read in conjunction with those listed above to ascertain the severity of the behaviour. When considering whether behaviour is abusive, it is important to consider:

- whether there is a large difference in power (for example age, size, ability, development) between the young people concerned

ANTI-BULLYING POLICY

- whether the perpetrator has repeatedly tried to harm one or more other students
- whether there are concerns about the intention of the alleged perpetrator.

Any manifestation of peer on peer abuse (physical, sexual or emotional including gender based violence/sexual assaults, sexting, teenage relationship abuse, peer on peer exploitation, serious youth violence, sexual bullying or harmful sexual behaviour) that is identified by a member of staff is referred immediately to the DSP in school so that it can be dealt with through the appropriate channels.

Preventing and responding to bullying incidents

Whilst we acknowledge that bullying cannot be completely eradicated, as a school, we are wholly committed to taking measures to minimise its presence and impact on individuals and the student body. The following strategy, developed in consultation with students, parents, staff and governors, gives details of how we hope to achieve this.

- Beaumont School has an effective pastoral system which takes all allegations of bullying seriously, investigates them and acts upon the findings according to the guidelines in this and the associated behaviour policy. This will always involve discussion with all students involved and, in the majority of instances, their parents.
- The teachers' observation of the behaviour of the students in their care is often the first indicator of bullying. The Form Tutor's role is vital but all staff will be vigilant and alert for signs of bullying.
- A "worry post box" is located outside the school's Finance Office where students can leave notes about any issues causing concern, including bullying. Students can choose to address the note to a specific member of staff if they so wish. The box is checked regularly with its contents passed, in confidence, to a senior pastoral post-holder.
- Year 11 students are used as form mentors for Year 7 tutor groups. This relationship allows younger students to discuss problems, including bullying, with older peers. Mentors are aware that they should always alert a member of staff to any bullying of which they become aware.
- The school runs a "Go 2" programme where students in years 7-9 act as anti-bullying ambassadors.
- Sixth Form students take part in a peer-mentoring scheme operating in Years 7, 8 and 9. All participants receive mentor safeguarding training and would make an informed judgement about when to involve pastoral staff.
- Anti-bullying advice is published in all pupil planners and features on the school's website.

ANTI-BULLYING POLICY

- The PSHE and Citizenship curricula address issues such as bullying, conflict and its resolution and peer pressure as do other subject areas such as Drama. Students discuss both the impact of such behaviour on others and also look at effective ways of dealing with the situations they may experience. Students will also be made aware of anti-bullying strategies through assemblies and form periods.
- The ICT Code of Conduct includes specific measures to tackle cyber bullying through the misuse of digital media, such as images of students, both in and out of school.

A notice board in the main building displays the contact details for reputable local and national agencies that offer services to children in difficulty and information leaflets are available to all students at the Pastoral Help Point, emphasised with the support of displays and assemblies.

Stakeholder communication

The school anti bullying policy is available for students, staff, governors and parents/carers to view on the school website.

Staff (teachers, teaching assistants and other support workers) are trained to model appropriate behaviour and challenge bullying according to school guidance.

By training students as part of the schools' peer mentoring scheme, they automatically become active in the anti-bullying ethos of the school.

Parents are encouraged to contact the school if they are concerned that their child is involved in bullying. The school offers many opportunities to involve all members of the school community in our anti bullying work including parent consultation evenings, staff meetings, surveys and use of curriculum opportunities.

Impact assessment

Monitoring and evaluation of this policy forms a regular part of our self-evaluation process. All policies are evaluated and reviewed with involvement from staff, students, the governing body, parents and carers. The anti bullying policy is reviewed every 3 years.

Tools that are used to assess the impact of the implementation of our anti bullying policy include:

- Annual behaviour report to governors by a senior member of staff including information on reported experiences of bullying and recorded incidents of bullying
- Kirkland Rowell Survey

The policy has been developed in line with advice from the Local Education Authority and in accordance with the DCSF published anti-bullying guidance for schools Safe to learn: Embedding anti bullying work in schools (2007); The Equality Act (2010) and DfE guidance: Preventing and Tackling Bullying - Advice for School Leaders, staff and Governing Bodies (2017).

This policy has undergone an equality impact assessment in accordance with the school's Public Sector Equality Duty under the Equality Act 2010.
