

Privacy Notice for Parents/Carers

How we use parent/carer information

Beaumont School collects data and information about parents/carers of our students so that we can operate effectively as a school. This privacy notice explains how and why we collect parent/carer data, what we do with it and what rights parents have.

The term “parent” is widely defined in education law to include the natural or adoptive parents (regardless of whether parents are or were married, whether a father is named on a birth certificate or has parental responsibility for the student, with whom the student lives or whether the student has contact with that parent), and also includes non-parents who have parental responsibility for the student, or with whom the student lives. It is therefore possible for a student to have several “parents” for the purposes of education law. This privacy notice also covers other members of students’ families who we may process data about from time to time, including, for example, siblings, aunts and uncles and grandparents.

Beaumont School is a Single Academy Trust and is the Data Controller for all data and information held by the school. This means the school determines the purpose for which and the manner in which any personal data relating to students and their families is to be processed.

Beaumont School has appointed Mrs Austin as the Data Protection Officer (DPO) and she can be contacted via the main school telephone number 01727 854726, or by email at DPO@beaumont.school.

NHS Test and Trace (Coronavirus)

The development of the NHS Test and Trace scheme is a key part of the government's plan to manage Coronavirus. As a private individual, compliance with the scheme may be optional, so that an individual cannot be forced to provide details when visiting some types of establishments. However, schools are public authorities and have a legal duty to protect and promote the welfare of pupils, as well as a duty of care to staff. We are required to engage with the NHS Test and Trace process and follow local health protection team advice to manage confirmed cases of coronavirus (COVID-19) amongst the school community to contain any outbreak.

If a person in a school has COVID-19 or symptoms of the virus they will be sent home.

The Department for Education guidance says:

'As part of the national test and trace programme, if other cases are detected within the child or young person's cohort or in the wider education or childcare setting, Public Health England's local Health Protection Teams will conduct a rapid investigation and will advise schools and other settings on the most appropriate action to take.'

If a case or suspected case of Coronavirus arises in our school then it may be necessary for us to share contact data of employees, pupils/students, contractors or visitors with NHS Test and Trace workers in order to make the process as effective as possible. Although at no point will we share data without a sound legal basis, in this situation it is not a matter of giving consent to share data, as there is a Public Duty to do so. This data will usually only consist of names and contact details, e.g. email address and/or telephone number.

Privacy Notice for Parents/Carers

We will therefore be sharing data on the basis that this is a Public Duty and, in the case of any health data, that it is necessary for the public interest, as set out below. It will only be used and retained in line with national guidelines and the applicable data protection laws. Where data needs to be shared we will:

- only share data with the relevant authorities
- verify the identity of persons requesting personal data
- limit the data shared to the minimum necessary
- ensure the data is kept secure, and only share via secure methods
- keep a record of the data shared, under the strictest confidence
- notify any individuals whose data has been shared (where possible)

NHS Test and Trace and the Law

The law on protecting personally identifiable information, known as the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR), allows Public Health England to use the personal information collected by NHS Test and Trace. The section of the GDPR that applies is:

Article 6(1)(e) – ‘processing is necessary for the performance of a task carried out in the public interest or in the exercise of official authority vested in the controller’

As information about health is a special category of personal information, a further section of the GDPR applies:

Article 9(2)(i) – ‘processing is necessary for reasons of public interest in the area of public health, such as protecting against serious cross-border threats to health or ensuring high standards of quality and safety of healthcare’

Public Health England also has special permission from the Secretary of State for Health and Social Care to use personally identifiable information without people’s consent where this is in the public interest. This is known as ‘Section 251’ approval and includes the use of the information collected by NHS Test and Trace to help protect the public from coronavirus. The part of the law that applies here is Section 251 of the National Health Service Act 2006 and the associated Health Service (Control of Patient Information) Regulations 2002.
